

◆ WELCOME TO THE HAUXTON HERALD ◆

This week, we took last week's focus on 'goals' one step further to 'aspirations'. We listened to a variety of ideas for future careers - from archeologists to scientists.

We explored the idea of how an aspiration for the future may require many small steps. Creating a series of spots at the front of the hall, we worked with Millie's aspiration to become a professional footballer. As a whole school, we explored each next step that she may need to focus for on her journey. At the end, we reflected on the fact that our big aspirations for the future can be broken down into smaller milestones.

MR GREY

VALUE IN ACTION COMMUNITY

With 4 key values that sit central to the work of the school, we aim to highlight how we develop these with the children and the school community. This week, Mrs. Lay and I enjoyed meeting with Rev. Mandy about how we can work together as partners in the community.

At this time of year, many of us are fortunate enough to see food growing all around, or access the food we need. Whilst there are harvests going on all around us in the fields and beyond, it is a great time to think about those who are less fortunate. As such, we are pleased to share with you details of collecting food donations for Jimmy's Night Shelter. You can find out more about their appeal here.

From Tuesday 23rd September, we welcome families to donate items for Jimmy's Night Shelter. You can see a list of desired items here. These will then be safely transported to Jimmy's via the St. Edmund's collection.
